

U. S. PROTESTS RED DEAL IN HUNGARY

ATOM ENERGY
CONTROL PLAN
GIVEN TO U. N.SOVIETS STAND PAT
ON DISPUTED ISSUES

BY FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Lake Success, June 11 (AP)—Russia put before the United Nations today the first detailed Soviet plan for an international control commission to regulate atomic energy.

But she did not back down from vital disagreements with the United States over the veto, and several delegates to the U. N. Atomic Energy commission frankly were puzzled over what Russia's new pronouncement meant.

It was referred to the commission's working committee for study.

Warren R. Austin, chief U. S. delegate, warned against optimism at this stage and pointed to several points in the new Soviet plan that must be cleared up.

Details in A.B.C.
Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, laid down the Soviet details in A.B.C. fashion to the U. N. Atomic Energy commission.

He outlined Russia's idea of an international control commission which would:

1. Inspect facilities for mining atomic raw materials and for production of atomic materials and atomic energy.

2. Check up on existing stocks of atomic materials.

3. Recommend to the security council (where the veto exists) action against violators of control agreements.

4. Carry out scientific research activities to keep abreast of latest developments.

He also said the international commission should be established "within the framework of the security council."

This is contrary to the United States view supported by the atomic commission majority, that an atomic development authority, with full control over atomic matters everywhere, shall be set up independent of the security council and that there shall be no veto punishments of atomic violations.

Four-Engine Plane
Flies 2,000 Miles
Without Any Pilots

Wilmington, O., (AP)—A pilotless four-engine Army transport plane landed at the Army Air Forces flying center here at 3:50 p. m. today, completing in eight hours and 46 minutes a 2,000-mile non-stop flight from Long Beach, Calif., during which no member of the 10-man crew touched the huge craft's controls.

Army engineers said it was made by a new "pushbutton" automatic flight system not to be confused with the "drone system" or remote controlled flight.

Some human control must be exercised in the operation of a "drone" plane, it was explained, but in the automatic flight system all the necessary flight data was fed electrically into a master control panel within the plane itself.

The plane's instruments were pre-set to take the plane off the runway in Long Beach, direct it on a course via Denver and Cincinnati, and set it down here.

The engineers emphasized that the automatic system was not planned to replace pilots but was developed as part of a program to beat the hazards of flying in bad weather.

RELATES 'RUSSIAN NIGHTMARE'—Maria Noell, 20, native of Philadelphia, Pa., caresses the American flag upon arriving in New York after two years of what she calls a "Russian nightmare." She was living with her parents in Romania when "liberated" by the Russians, who, she says, shunted her across Russia in cattle cars, starved and beat her, forced her to work in Soviet factories. Gerald Makma, U. S. consul general in Germany, rescued her and sent her back to her native land. She does not know what happened to her parents.

Promise Of More Rain
Darkens Flood Outlook
In Central Missouri

St. Louis, June 11 (AP)—The prospect of additional rain in the Missouri river watershed worsened the outlook along the flooding river in central Missouri today, but the flood picture improved gradually in northeastern Missouri and northern Illinois as the Mississippi continued to fall in that ravaged area.

Army engineers, government agencies and the Red Cross estimated the two rivers already had flooded a million acres in the two states, adding 3,700 homeless to the total of 18,700 driven from their homes by other floods in Iowa and Nebraska.

Further inundation was predicted as the Missouri and Mississippi crests moved toward the confluence of the two rivers about 20 miles north of here.

More than a half million acres were under water in this area and along tributaries to the north but the only evacuations reported thus far were 20 families at Glasgow and two in Jefferson City. The capital and other public buildings were safe on high ground.

The Missouri river was seven feet above flood level at Booneville, but still a foot below the 1944 flood peak and had risen only a tenth of a foot in 24 hours as the crest approached.

Federal Meteorologist Harry F. Wahlgren said that while the Mississippi probably would be five feet above flood stage when it crests here sometime Friday, he did not believe the rising waters would cause any great amount of damage.

The Missouri river was 4.5 feet above flood stage today at St. Charles, Mo., near the point where it empties into the Mississippi and it was expected to crest a foot and a half higher tomorrow, Wahlgren said.

Stages along the Mississippi below St. Louis rose steadily and farmers as far away as Cairo, Ill., and Cape Girardeau, Mo., 125 miles south of here, prepared to evacuate if necessary.

AMERICA AIDS
WORLD PEACE,
CANADA TOLDTRUMAN GIVES PUSH
TO ST. LAWRENCE
WATERWAY

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO
Ottawa, June 11 (AP)—President Truman told a handclapping, desk-thumping Canadian parliament today that the United States intends to aid those nations who seek to live in peace.

"I propose to 'expend our energies and invest our substance' in promoting world recovery."

The American chief executive drew round after round of applause as he drove home to the legislators of this "good neighbor" to the north his oft-repeated challenge to aggression.

The president's speech was interpreted by many as a proposed extension of the Truman doctrine beyond the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program and the $350,000,000 relief measure for other devastated countries.

Hopeful For Future
Mr. Truman also called for completion of the St. Lawrence waterway project, which has long been the subject of controversy in the United States.

Asserting that the hope of the future was "to multiply the fruitfulness of the earth and to diffuse its benefits among all mankind," the president added:

"Free men everywhere know that the purpose of the United States is to restore the world to health and to re-establish conditions in which the common people of the earth can work out their salvation by their own efforts."

"We seek a peaceful world, a prosperous world, a free world, a world of good neighbors, living on terms of equality and mutual respect, as Canada and the United States have lived for generations."

Mr. Truman, who arrived in this country yesterday with Mrs. Truman and their daughter, said that Canada and the United States had set an example to the world by living together for years "in harmony for the common good."

Mr. Truman disclosed that the Canadian-American joint defense board would continue to operate in the future as part of the hemisphere defense program for which he is seeking congressional support.

Members of parliament gave the president a rising ovation as he entered the House chamber.

Another ovation accompanied the president as he left to lay a wreath on the National War Memorial and attend the prime minister's luncheon at Chateau Laurier.

The warm reception by the legislators topped off an enthusiastic round of receptions which began yesterday, with crowds in the street cheering his every appearance.

CHINA TO SEEK MONGOL TRUCE

No Border War Wanted
By Nation Tangled
In Civil Strife

BY HAROLD K. MILKS
Nanking, June 11 (AP)—Chinese officials, alarmed by an Outer Mongolian invasion of Sinkiang province, today were reported ready to seek a diplomatic truce rather than a military victory to end the outbreak.

China's armies already are committed to the worsening civil war and she has only a comparatively small force in Sinkiang, in the remote northwest.

A government spokesman declared "this is no ordinary frontier incident" and accused Russia of partial responsibility.

Outer Mongolia, a republic bordering Sinkiang, is Russian dominated.

Central News, the official agency through which the government belatedly announced the invasion, said military officials in Sinkiang reported four warplanes bearing Soviet emblems bombed and strafed ahead of the invaders.

The Central Daily News, organ of the Kuomintang (government party) quoted an unnamed high government official as saying "uranium deposits were discovered a few months ago in the Chital area of northern Sinkiang. That is the area over which Mongolian and native Sinkiang troops now are fighting."

Uranium is essential in the production of atomic bombs.

Rationing Of Sugar
Ended; Prices To Be Kept Under Control

Washington, June 11 (AP)—The nation's housewives reached the end of a five-year coupon ordeal tonight when the government ended rationing of sugar for households, hotels and restaurants, effective at midnight.

Last of a multitude of things that once could not be bought with money alone, sugar was freed from ration controls because large quantities are available.

However, price controls remain. So does rationing of industrial sugar. (All sugar controls are due to end Oct. 31 unless Congress says otherwise.)

Tonight's announcement came from Secretary of Agriculture Anderson. His action ended all rationing of articles for ultimate consumers for the first time since April 28, 1942. Sugar, last food to be removed from rationing, was the first to be rationed.

Today's move caught Congress by surprise. The House was prepared to consider a bill to end rationing at tomorrow's session. Similar legislation has been called for in the Senate, but no action has resulted there.

The agriculture secretary announced the end of sugar rationing at a news conference. When a reporter asked whether pending congressional action had anything to do with the step, he said:

"A better way to put it would be: Did Congress hurry it because it knew this action was coming?"

He gave three reasons for the move:

1. The International Emergency Food Council said today the United States will get 350,000 extra tons of sugar from Cuba.

2. Cuba has still more surplus sugar which is expected to help cut down demands from other parts of the world.

3. Some 200,000 tons of Java sugar—availability of which was in doubt—will definitely be offered to world users now.

Anderson said he "did not dare" end rationing until he received news of the extra sugar from Cuba.

He warned industrial users that they still need ration checks to get sugar from wholesalers or retailers.

In addition, he said, retailers will be required to keep records of the name and address of each industrial buyer, the address to which the sugar is delivered, and other information.

But the records of wholesalers and stores selling to household users will be greatly simplified.

The handling of about 1,800,000 gummed sheets of ration stamps is eliminated by today's action.

GUN MAN WITH MASK KILLS 2

Country Storekeeper
And Boy Shot Down
Near Morehead, Ky.

Morehead, Ky., June 11 (AP)—A country storekeeper and a 16-year-old boy were slain today 12 miles from here by an unidentified man wearing a crude mask, Sheriff Sam Green announced.

The sheriff identified the victims as Eddie Johnson, 52, and Robert Rowe, 16, of adjoining Elliott county, who happened to be in the store at the time.

Four witnesses, all in their teens, said the assailant bolted for the front door of the establishment after shooting the man and boy—and disappeared.

The story, as pieced together by the sheriff and County Attorney Elijah Hogue, was that young Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rowe, was seated on the counter when the man entered, his face covered by a sack in which two holes had been cut for eyes.

"What are you doing, trying to kid somebody?" the boy asked.

In answer, the man fired one blast which struck young Rowe in the left side, then fired another that hit Johnson in the right shoulder.

The police disavowed knowledge of a motive for the slayings, but other sources indicated there had been differences between families in the district following the return of indictments in several gun-toting and moonshining cases by the recent grand jury.

Liquor Commission
Employees Suspended
For Sale To Minors

Lansing, June 11 (AP)—The worm turned today as two employees of the state liquor store at Cadillac drew penalties for selling liquor to minors.

The Liquor Control Commission has been vigorously prosecuting licensees who sell to minors.

The commission imposed a 90-day suspension on Kenneth Brodeur, a clerk, and a 30-day suspension on Eldon A. Carlson, the store manager.

Commissioner Felix H. H. Flynn said that Brodeur admitted at a hearing that he sold a bottle of liquor to a 19-year-old Cadillac youth who shared it with another.

ACCIDENT IS OMELET
Jackson, Mich., June 11 (AP)—A traffic mishap dished up an omelet of huge proportions on U.S. 112 near Somerset today.

Paul Gotshall, 26, of Howe, Ind., lost control of his truck, owned by the Mendelsohn Egg Co. of Detroit, in averting a collision.

The truck's contents, 10,950 dozen eggs, spilled out. Gotshall was slightly injured.

FIRE LOSS $1,850,000
Honolulu, June 11 (AP)—Estimates of the damage from a spectacular fire that destroyed the main hangar and two transports at Honolulu Airport rose to $1,850,000 today.

The blaze occurred last night.

VETERAN DIPLOMAT
Norman Armour came out of retirement to become assistant secretary of state succeeding Spruille Braden, who resigned. In foreign service since 1915, Armour has been U. S. ambassador to Argentina and Spain.

These were the actions taken:

1. The state department made public a hotly worded note of protest on the Communist upset of the Hungarian government recently.

2. It (a) charged the Soviet Union with violating the Yalta agreement and (b) demanded an American-British-Russian investigation of political conditions in Hungary "as a matter of urgency."

WAR ALLIANCE WANTED
Budapest, Hungary, June 11 (AP)—A reliable informant said today that Russia is negotiating a new peace-time alliance designed to align the Hungarian and Russian armies in the event of war.

This source asserted the Russians already had agreed to train top Hungarian officers at the Russian war college in Moscow, and that Hungarian military and police officers had signed up to take the course.

Unless this or other "adequate investigation" is agreed to, the United States note asserted, the American government will consider "further action" which almost certainly would be an appeal to the United Nations.

2. In a formal statement the department charged that the "Bulgarian government had arbitrarily arrested" the chief leader of its opposition, Nicola Petkov. The statement declared that in putting him on trial on a charge of treason the Bulgarian regime was putting itself on trial with many of its own people and "in the opinion of all freedom supporting peoples outside Bulgaria."

One common line of argument linked the note of protest on Hungary and the public statement on Bulgaria. This was the charge that in both instances the big three Yalta pact, guaranteeing demo-

Heat Records Broken In East; Light Frost Hits
Midwest Areas

Chicago, June 11 (AP)—The wind blew hot and cold across the country today.

While heat records were broken in the east and residents of the Gulf states sweated, snow fell in Cheyenne, Wyo., and the Central Rockies, and freezing temperatures were recorded in Oregon and Nevada. Light frost was predicted for the northern sections of Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Upper Michigan.

Wink, Tex., with a blistering 103 had the highest reading on the weather map. The mercury soared to 95 at Binghamton, N. Y., breaking a 14 year record for the date. Albany, N. Y., reported 92, a record for the date while Buffalo marked up 87, equalling the 1895 all-time high. New York City's 86 was the warmest day of the year.

With temperatures generally in the 90's, Kentucky reported one death from heat stroke.

Weather forecasters predicted that a cool air mass, which routed a heat wave in the midwest yesterday, would keep temperatures in the area below normal for several days. Williston and Dickinson, N. D., and Chadron, Neb., reported 34.

Temperatures also were below normal in the west, with Bend, Ore., reporting 28 and Austin, Nevada, 31.

Democratic Leader
David Walsh Dies
In Boston Hospital

Boston, June 11 (AP)—Former U. S. Senator David L. Walsh, wartime chairman of the powerful naval affairs committee, died today at St. Elizabeth's hospital after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage.

The 74-year-old political leader, who served Massachusetts in the Senate for 26 years, 20 of them consecutively, entered the hospital a week ago today for observation of high blood pressure.

His condition became serious on Monday and since that time little hope had been held for his recovery.

The Democratic Walsh, one of the best vote-getters in Massachusetts' political history, went down to defeat for re-election last fall in the Republican sweep led by Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., who supplanted him.

He was the first Democrat elected from Massachusetts to the Senate since before the Civil War.

SITE SELECTED FOR NEW WELL

City Will Advertise For Bids; Job Planned This Summer

The new city well will be drilled on city-owned property between North Third and Fourth streets, east of the Delta Hardware building, City Manager A. V. Aronson, reported yesterday.

The city will advertise for bids for the well drilling job and bid prices are not unreasonable and materials can be secured if it is planned to do the job this summer.

A 16-inch well will be drilled to a depth estimated at 750 to 800 feet. Since the location is midway between the No. 1 well at Sand Point which has produced the softest water in the city's artesian supply, and the No. 2 well at North First avenue and 21st street, which is the largest producer of any of the wells, hopes are rather high that the new well will be a successful one.

The city already has five wells, four of which are supplying the city's water requirements in all seasons except mid-summer. One well is not being used because of its iron content. If the new well becomes a heavy producer, such as the No. 2 well it will provide the additional requirements for mid-summer demand.

The city council authorized the construction of a new well at its last meeting.

County Plat Books Received By Clerk

New plat books of Delta county, taken from the 1945 tax rolls and containing the names of owners and full descriptions of all properties in the county, have been received at the office of County Clerk J. Theodore Olsen.

The books were ordered by the county board of supervisors as a public service, and will be sold for the nominal sum of $2 to cover costs of preparation and printing.

Vitamin A Lack Is Related To TB

Atlantic City, N. J.—A relation between lack of vitamin A and susceptibility to tuberculosis, at least in rats and mice, has been discovered by Drs. A. B. McCord, C. P. Katsamides, E. Day and S. M. Clausen of the University of Rochester School of Medicine.

The stores of this vitamin in the tissues of mice are lowered by inhalation tuberculosis, the doctors reported at the meeting here of the American Association of Tuberculosis Physicians.

Rats that do not get enough vitamin A, they also found, are more susceptible to disease than rats with high stores of the vitamin. Animals lacking vitamin A have bronchi that are broader and more irregular in outline than those of animals not lacking the vitamin, and evidences of pneumonia and bronchitis with inflammation are more evident.

City Playgrounds, Beach Open For Summer June 23

Municipal playgrounds throughout the city and the popular bathing beach at Sand Point will be open to the public Monday, June 23, and will remain open the rest of the summer, the city recreation department announced yesterday.

Playground programs will be supervised at Webster playground, adjacent to Webster school, Royce park on 19th street and at Ludington Park.

Facilities at the city playgrounds are greatly improved over last summer the department having purchased considerable new equipment. More facilities also will be available at the municipal bathing beach.

Registration at the playgrounds will start at 10 a. m. June 23 and will continue the remainder of the day. Programs will be conducted Monday through Friday and also on Saturday mornings.

One of the features of the summer playground program will be weekly special events for the children to be climaxed at the end of the summer by a playground achievement day, which will include tests of athletic skill, handicraft displays, hobby shows and other features.

Mrs. Leona Erickson will supervise play at Webster, Miss Doris Costley at Ludington Park and Miss Helen Johnson and Paul Vardigan at Royce park.

Youngsters will participate in junior baseball and softball competition throughout the summer under the direction of Jerome Deloria and Paul Vardigan, respectively. Tournaments in each will conclude the season.

Life guards certified by the American Red Cross will be on duty daily at the bathing beach.

The Negaunee pastor submitted his resignation Tuesday to the Rt. Rev. Herman R. Page, Bishop of the Diocese of Northern Michigan, in Marquette.

Bruce K. Nelson Named Principal

Negaunee—Bruce K. Nelson, who has served as principal of the Central grade school during the 1946-47 school year, was appointed principal of Negaunee high school by the board of education last night to fill the vacancy left by the death of Robert A. Gilmore March 6.

A veteran of World War II, Nelson was appointed principal of the Central grade school following his discharge from the Navy last June after 22 months of service, 11 of which were spent overseas. ## Wooden Nickels Will Be Legal Tender Here

The familiar old admonition "Don't Take Any Wooden Nickels" will become meaningless in Escanaba if the committee sponsoring the Hiawathaland Festival have their way beginning next week.

Wooden nickels, yes nickels that are actually made out of wood, will make their appearance here next week and what is more, they will be accepted by the stores in making purchases and be given in change to people making purchases. The souvenir nickels are being issued to advertise the big Hiawathaland Festival, to be held July 3 through July 6.

It is expected that most people will want to save the nickels as an interesting memento of the city's big festival party, but those desiring to exchange the wooden variety for the more familiar type put out by Uncle Sam can do so by taking their nickels to any of the banks here up until July 2, deadline for redemption.

The new type of wooden nickel will be printed in several different issues, and it is expected that many people will want to save and collect a series of the new coins from each of the issues printed. Several coin collectors already have signified their intentions of attempting to collect a set of wooden nickels from each issue. Anyone desiring to make any kind of special collection of the coins are asked to contact the festival headquarters at 710 Ludington, and their orders will be filled in the order taken.

The Lions club of Escanaba is handling the distribution of the wooden nickels to all interested merchants. Any merchants desiring to get a supply of wooden nickels are urged to contact the Wooden Money committee at festival headquarters, 710 Ludington or phone 1100.

Wooden money will be issued in the following denominations: One wooden nickel, two wooden nickels, and five wooden nickels for the value of five cents, ten cents, and twenty-five cents respectively. The first issue to be printed will be the Red issue. Other issues will be printed from time to time during the period of the pre-festival activities.

Hanna To Explore For Ore In Quebec

Iron River, Mich.—The M. A. Hanna Co. is participating with the Hollinger North Shore Exploration Co., Ltd., in preparations for resumption of drilling for iron ore on an extensive tract of land in northeastern Quebec.

Last season, core drilling disclosed unsatisfactory core recovery but it is now planned to use the churn drill.

The Goodwood deposit, one of the large ore bodies, having at one point a width of 1,200 feet, was increased in known ore last year by exploration and now has indicated 225,000 tons per vertical foot. The Hollinger firm is a subsidiary of the great Hollinger mining corporation.

Applications have been filed with the Dominion government and also with the Newfoundland government for railway charters which will permit the construction of a railroad connecting the ore deposits of the interior and a harbor on the St. Lawrence river.

GUARDSMEN TO ATTEND CAMP

War Department Order Permits Delta Unit To Participate

Men signing up with Company C, Delta county National Guard unit, currently leading the state in reorganization, will be eligible to participate in the 46th Infantry Division's first postwar summer encampment July 12 to 26 at Camp Grayling, Brig. Gen. LeRoy Pearson, state adjutant general announces.

The War Department has relaxed its ruling requiring enlistment of 30 per cent of authorized strength before becoming eligible to participate in the field training.

Therefore, the 107th Engineer Combat Battalion, of which Company C is a part, and approximately 100 other Michigan National Guard units who were activated before last April 15 are eligible to attend camp.

Men interested in joining the Delta county unit are asked to see Capt. Roy Johnson or S. Sgt. LeRoy Erickson at the State Fairgrounds Armory any time between 7:30 and 9:30 this evening. Information about the Guard also may be procured at the Army recruiting office, 1215 Ludington street.

During field training from July 12-26, Guardsmen will be camped along the shores of Lake Margrethe in six-man pyramidal tents. They will receive full Army pay for the 15-day period, varying from $37.50 to $32.50 plus longevity allowances for veterans.

The state is already lining up contracts for delivery of quality foods to be served by trained cooks in the camp's permanent dining halls.

It was reported from the state office yesterday that "most public agencies and many private employers, recognizing the importance of the National Guard, are giving their guardsmen-employees time off for field training without sacrifice of income or regular vacations."

CARS TO HAVE MORE BEAUTY

Mechanical Efficiency
To Be Objective,
However

French Lick, Ind., (SS.)—The automobile of tomorrow will still be a compromise between beauty of design and mechanical efficiency; a compromise between industrial art and scientific engineering.

Automobile design is an art, Kenneth A. Hopkins of George W. Walker Organization, Detroit, asserted at the meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers. Since appeal of efficiency alone has come to a standstill, an automobile must incorporate beauty to sell, he said.

Automobile design is a science, and beauty is inadequate unless based on sound engineering, Virgil M. Exner of the Studebaker Corporation, South Bend, Ind., declared. Both agreed, however, that an automobile can be both beautiful and functional.

People buy new cars not because the old ones are worn out, but because in appearance they are out of date, Mr. Hopkins stated. Beauty is a greater force in human affairs than steam, electricity, economics or engineering.

Tomorrow's car will borrow from aircraft design, Mr. Exner predicted. Cars will have lower bodies and greater visibility, will reveal genuine streamlining, and will combine beauty with function.

Tomorrow's automobile will resemble a means of transportation, but not an artist's nightmare. He said postwar "dream cars" have not materialized because they were too freakish for the public taste and economically impossible to manufacture.

Irish Institutions
Get Coal Donation

(P) Newsfeatures
Rosslare Harbour Wexford, Ireland—By courtesy of the Sword Line Inc. of New York, Capt. Ben M. Phillips, commander of the David S. Terry discharging American coal at Cork, has arranged to distribute a quantity of anthracite coal to fuel-impoorished charitable institutions in the city.

Coal is at a premium in Ireland and even institutions for the poor and needy cannot obtain any. The little available is urgently required to keep industry going.

The coal will be distributed amongst various Catholic and Protestant institutions after consultation with Lord Mayor Sheehan.

The vessel is named after David S. Terry, a member of a Cork merchant family which gave many mayors and sheriffs to that city

SHOW THIS TO JUNIOR—American school books are so precious to these Philippine farm children that they look at them even while riding the family carabao working in the fields near Cavite. Books are part of the 250,000 elementary texts obtained through California State Department of Education and shipped to Manila for distribution.

Priest To Penetrate Venezuelan Wilds

(P) Newsfeatures
Caracas —Alone and unarmed, a 39-year-old Capuchin priest intends to penetrate the tangled jungle of western Venezuela and convert the wild Motilon Indians to civilized ways.

In preparation for his venture, black-bearded Padre R. P. Cesario de Armellada has flown over Motilon territory and dropped gift packages. They contained various useful articles such as salt, tools, and calico and, in addition, pictures of the missionary.

Padre Armellada said he hopes that the pictures will help the Mottions identify him when and if he gets to one of their settlements. He will carry no arms to defend himself against the Indians who have resisted with bow and arrow all efforts of white men to know them.

Motilon territory is at the eastern base of the cordilleras which form the boundary between Venezuela and Colombia. It lies southeast of the great oil center of Maracaibo. So far as is known no white man ever has established friendly contact with the Mottions.

during past centuries. His family emigrated from Ireland and settled in Todd County, Kentucky, about 1790, and Terry fought with Sam Houston in Texas taking part in the battle of Monterey in 1849.

ARMY TO HAVE FLU VACCINE

Specific Drug To Treat Influenza Is Expected

Washington, (SS.)—The Army will probably have a new, better vaccine against influenza next fall. And before too long, all of us may be able to get a specific drug for treatment if we get 'flu.

These possibilities appear in a report made here this morning by Dr. Joseph E. Smadel, scientific director of the virus and rickettsial diseases department at the Army Medical Center, Walter Reed Hospital here.

Reason for the new influenza vaccine is that a new strain of influenza A virus appeared during the 1947 epidemic. It was so different from the older strains of influenza A that the present vaccine, in some cases at least, could not protect against it. The present vaccine is effective against the older strain of influenza A and against a strain of influenza B virus.

The Army's epidemiological board has just recommended that the new strain be incorporated with the older strain and the B.

on the outskirts of Motilon territory have suggested that it dates from the Stone Age.

Padre Armellada's project is supported by the Creole Petroleum Corporation which has oil concessions in Motilon territory.

virus, in vaccine purchased by the Army for use in the fall of 1947.

For treatment of influenza, Dr. Smadel pointed to two drugs that check the growth of the virus when it is growing on eggs in the laboratory. One of these is an acridine, related to the anti-malaria drug, atabrine. Although the growth of the virus is considerably delayed at first, at the end of 72 hours it was growing as well in the acridine treated eggs as in untreated controls.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

the Women-Folk!

There's a line at the heading of the Woman's Column in my paper that reads:

"Women through the years have stood Keepers of the flame..."

Pretty easy to see what it means; whether it's the flame on the hearth, or the candle in the window, or the feeling of warmth that surrounds a home.

It's the women who are guardians of the things we cherish about home-life—who are tolerant of ashes on the rug; the rings a glass of beer can leave on tables; or the comfortable but too-worn chair that we can't bear to throw away.

From where I sit, those little satisfactions become more and more important in this world of strife and change. Smoke rings curling from a mellow pipe; a glass of beer; a comfortable chair before the fire. And I'd like to salute the housewives—"keepers of the flame"—whose tolerance and understanding helps preserve them!

"Arsenic and Old Lace" Matinee Today—Patrician Thespians

At 2 this afternoon, the Patrician Thespians will make their theatrical debut, under the direction of Father Ruppe, with a three-act comedy that has kept Broadway-goers, college students and scores of others in stitches for long time.

In "Arsenic and Old Lace" Joseph Kesselring has thrown in everything, with a window seat taking the place of a kitchen sink. There is a thwarted love affair, a schizophrenic who thinks he is of Teddy Roosevelt material, a couple of aunts who do old men a favor by poisoning them, a gangster who looks like Boris Karloff and a Dr. Einstein.

The whole venture revolves around a window seat and some tunnels, supposedly the Panama Canal. "Yellow Fever Victims" mount alarmingly to make the locks situation as aggravating as the housing shortage.

Just what takes place and how is to be meant for a cast of young people from Escanaba staging this amusing play in William Bonifas auditorium this afternoon and also at 8:15 tomorrow night.

It is their first production and if all goes well others will be presented.

The cast follows: Abbey Brewster, Mary Cleereman; Martha Brewster, Ann Shepeck; Jonathan Brewster, Ernest Belanger; Teddy Brewster, Howard Peron; Rev.

BUILDING BOOM FAILS TO COME

Much Poor Lumber And
Other Materials
Being Used

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Park, Mass.—Before the start of 1947 we all looked forward to a building boom such as we had not seen since the 1923-27 period. We know now that this anticipated boom has not materialized. Nor do we expect any such boom this year. What happened to postpone the great potential demand?

We have all read about the high cost of building materials. Those of us who have wanted to build or who have been forced to build have found this only too true. Lumber has been exorbitantly high and the green lumber now on the market is not building good houses. Materials have not only been poor but they have been scarce. Both of these factors have delayed the expected boom.

Labor is the great detriment to the building trade. The cost of labor is high and the workmanship is far from expert. Many men who have previously had little real experience are obtaining the same wages as skilled craftsmen. Present labor union practices do not encourage apprentices to enter the building trades. This quite naturally keeps the supply of skilled labor low and the rates high. When a man pays for a building, be it residential or industrial, he wants to know that he is obtaining sound material and the best possible workmanship while still keeping his price within a reasonable figure.

Buyers Resistance

Industrial building, although up to this time hindered by Government regulation, has had a post-war start. We have all seen evidence of this in the plans and construction begun by leading businesses and industries throughout the United States. Will this program follow through in the face of the much ballyhooed business recession? More likely this also will slack off and await the time when materials and labor are both cheaper and better.

How many veterans and other people displaced by the war thought of building homes when "peace" at last came? How many more had decided to buy homes? If we could compare the above to the thousands of those that actually found it feasible to build or buy, we would find a wide gap between desire and realization. In addition to excessive costs and poor workmanship, building regulations have proved discouraging. Continued strikes have contributed to the general pessimism.

Only those who have been forced into building or buying to keep a roof over their heads have succeeded. This has left a group, less pressed by need and better able to wait for more favorable opportunities. Thus, we have seen a gradual drop in prices of older houses since about September, 1946. Not all the newly built houses are being snapped up.

Demand Still Exists

There are today persistent requests for federal and state housing for veterans and others. We hear of many fires and resulting deaths brought about by overcrowded conditions and careless conversion of private homes into lodging houses. Builders of apartments and houses to rent will be encouraged only when costs of building products have evened out. They wait also for a time when the cost of labor is more predictable and their work more profitable.

As for building stocks most of them are at or near their lows for the year. Their prospects are good because of the still unsatisfied demand. They have been kept down by the failure of the building boom to progress. There has already been an indication that some manufacturers and progressers of building materials may cut their prices. Should this work out, manufacturers of other construction materials may follow suit. When some of the problems facing present construction are solved, then volume construction can start. When this happens we will see a rise in the earnings of building stocks. Thus, although the building boom has been delayed, I continue to feel that it will someday come.

Railway Labor Unions Seek 44 Rule Changes

Washington—A trainload of rail labor trouble is Washington-bound. It's due in early next week.

Leaders of 300,000 operating rail workers—the men who actually run the trains—are getting up steam to demand 44 changes in the conditions or "rules" under which train folk work. Chieftains of the five big operating brotherhoods, representing such jobs as engineers, firemen, brakemen, switchmen and conductors, are meeting now in Cleveland.

The brotherhoods' demands will be served on railroad companies within the next few days. Counting strategy will be formulated at the headquarters of the powerful Association of American Railroads here in the Capital. There's a good chance that the federal government will eventually be involved, if bargaining between the brotherhoods and the railroads breaks down.

Want More Overtime Pay
The labor leaders, representing 28 percent of the nation's 1.5 million railroad workers, are plotting revisions in the working rules calculated to give these employees additional benefits. They seek increases in the overtime pay scale, standardized wage rates among rail territories, minimum daily earnings, differentials for night work, and shorter trains (to give employment to more rail crews). The effect of all these proposed changes would be to give workers more pay.

Some of these changes have been sought by the rail unions for 60 years. The brotherhoods contend that the changes the brotherhoods are asking would cost more than a billion dollars a year. This figure is based on 1946 costs; their present costs are even higher.

What the country's 133 Class I railroads fear is that the union demands will include a general wage increase proposal as well as suggested rule revisions. The 15.5 cents-per-hour increase offered by the railroads last year in lieu of rules changes cost the carriers $700 million.

Whitney Favors Restraint
A. F. Whitney, chief of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and bellwether for the five operating unions, has made it clear that the brotherhoods consider themselves "at liberty" to ask for a wage increase whenever they choose. However, he favors restraint "in order to turn the trend of prices downward."

The Association of American Railroads, which will represent the carriers in collective bargaining through one of its many committees, is skeptical. Officials point out that the 20-cents-per-hour wage boost already demanded by the so-called "non-operating" unions is likely to be equalled if not surpassed by the operating workers. The straight wage demand might be less in itself, but the higher pay, necessitated by changes in rules would exceed it, the A. A. R. speculates.

Take the demand for a train-length limitation. This would rule would reduce the value of high-powered locomotives, lengthened sidings, and passing tracks, and jeopardize safety by multiplying the number of runs, they say.

The A. A. R. says the rules changes, taken together, would raise the wage structure inequitably by pyramiding increases for some jobs while neglecting others. For instance, one change would lower from 150 to 100 miles or less the mileage to be worked by a man in passenger service for a day's pay. Freight train workers are already on the 100-mile basis. This mileage reduction would have the effect of increasing by 50 percent the passenger trainman's total pay. On the basis of last year's 15½ cents per hour increase, this rule change would have raised the passenger worker's pay 80 percent, the railroads claim.

A brakeman on suburban service might qualify for increases under three proposed rules changes and almost double his pay, the railroads say.

Supreme Court Decision Cited
Office of Defense Transportation officials agree. They say the safety angle is ruled out, since visibility isn't necessary if radio communication is required on long trains. Furthermore, this government agency points out that the Supreme Court declared invalid the state of Arizona's train-limit statute which imposed identical limitations and held that train-length is not a safety factor.

Since railroad employment last year dropped nearly 61,000—from 1,419,505 to 1,358,838 jobs—the railroad executives look at the unions' train-length request as an adorned feather-bedding. This

Library Adventure

By Arnold Mulder

THE PUBLICATION of "Kingsblood Royal," a new novel by Sinclair Lewis, has been greeted by the usual chorus of commentators in unrestrained superlatives. They may be right; I have not read the book and have no intention of reading it. The chances are that they are merely going through the usual motions and that the book is just another instalment of the far too familiar mind of Sinclair Lewis handed out to the American readers in the form of a novel.

At least that was true of several of the later Sinclair Lewis books before this one. The time usually comes in the life of a novelist when he has nothing new to say, when he has written himself out. Usually, if he is a good writer, and certainly if he is a Nobel prize winner, he keeps on writing because there is money in it, but more particularly, perhaps, because he can't help himself. Writing has become a kind of dope habit for him.

In point of reading economy, at least for one who takes fiction seriously but whose reading time is limited, it often is a nice question to decide when a novelist like Lewis has reached this point of saturation.

For Sinclair Lewis, it seems to me, this saturation point came about 10 or a dozen years ago. Perhaps his last book that was worth reading for its own sake and not because it was a book by Sinclair Lewis, was "It Can't Happen Here." In most of the volumes that have come since, Lewis has merely repeated the old familiar tricks. His fictional devices have had the same familiarity to the trained reader of contemporary fiction that to the habitual movie goer the techniques and tricks of the familiar actors have.

If novelists who have written themselves out could simply swear off, their permanent reputations would be much safer. But they just can't, any more than a drug addict can free himself of his habit. At least most of them can't. Occasionally there is one who can say, "I solemnly swear not to write another novel," and mean it. But such novelists are rare.

A few novelists who did not have anything more to say in the novel have successfully made use of a type of "cure" that is familiar in the treatment of habitual drunkards and drug addicts. They have substituted some other interest for the consuming passion of novel writing, just as doctors sometimes cure drunkards by substituting a harmless habit for a harmful one.

Thomas Hardy is the best example. When in the middle nineties the great English novelist "swore off" novel writing with a grim finality that left him or his millions of admirers no loophole or ray of hope, he substituted epic poetry for the novel. Devoting most of the rest of his long life to writing "The Dynasts," he thereby filled the vacuum left by his turning away from the novel.

He knew then, and we know today, that, relatively speaking, there was no audience for such an epic poem as "The Dynasts" in the practical and businesslike twentieth century. While the epic was a place of distinction in contemporary English literature, hardly one in a hundred thousand of the readers of Hardy's novels read it. Writing the poem Hardy was almost as completely in another world as if he had moved to a different planet. But it served his purpose of weaning him from his novel writing addiction.

But few novelists have that much stamina when they are still big sellers. Usually they go on saying the same thing all over again until death stops them short.

Other numbers on the program were salutatory address, Mary Ann Arquin; class history, Charlene Swanson; vocal solo, Mrs. Eval St. Juliana; class prophecy, Cecelia Tomasi; class will, Henry Lombard; and the valedictory address, Veronica Rodman. Mrs. Leo T. Doran played the processional and recessional for the occasion.

Diplomas and awards were presented to the graduates by Mr. J. E. Wells, superintendent of the Meyer Township school. A scholarship was awarded Henry Lombard by the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton and Lombard was also awarded the citizenship medal.

Miss Veronica Rodman, valedictorian and Miss Mary Ann Arquin, salutatorian, were presented medals, gifts of the Josten Company. Miss Rodman also received a Reader's Digest subscription for one year. Miss Charlene Swanson was awarded a medal for commercial work and a certificate for good attendance record of not having missed a day of school during the three of her four years in high school.

A capacity audience attended the program. The students wearing maroon caps and gowns were seated on a stage decorated with flowers. Following the program, the graduates and the audience enjoyed an evening of dancing to the music of Ivan Kobasic and his orchestra.

Student Gets Award

Miss Veronica Rodman, valedictorian of the graduating class at Hermansville high school, has been given the Eleventh Annual Award of the Reader's Digest Association for students who by their successful school work give promise of attaining leadership in the community. It was announced today by J. E. Wells, superintendent.

Miss Rodman will receive an honorary subscription to The Reader's Digest for one year and an engraved certificate from the editors, "in recognition of past accomplishment and in anticipation of unusual achievement to come."

The award to Miss Rodman who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rodman of Hermansville, was made possible through the cooperation of Supt. Wells and his teaching staff. They selected Miss Rodman to receive the award, designed to stimulate scholarship, citizenship, and continued contact with good reading after graduation.

Has Good Future

The picturesque unloading equipment at the receiving docks of the Lake ports in the early days, with the barrel and mule, has given way to modern unloaders with self-filling buckets which take up 15 tons at each grab. A dock with four such machines can unload 500,000 tons per 24 hour day.

Much has been done in the improvements of mining methods in the Upper Peninsula, much more remains to be accomplished by the engineers of the future.

The known reserves of merchantable ore are still enormous but they are limited. Suitable and practicable means of beneficiation of existing and known great bodies of ore of too low grade for present use in the furnaces are being devised. Means may yet be found by which ore at depths beyond excavation may be brought into use. Improvements may be made in the methods of finding bodies of ore not at present known. Great as is the present status of the iron ore industry in this region, its future may be even greater—and with it Escanaba's future growth will greatly depend.

Discovery Of Iron Ore In 1844 Started Boom

Like the anchoring post of a spider's web which grows larger and more substantial with each new thread, Escanaba is the starting point for a complicated network of water lanes over which ply huge ore boats carrying thousands of tons of potential steel daily to all parts of the Great Lakes. Each boatload of ore leaving for inland ports and each succeeding shipping season further augments the progress of the city of Escanaba.

Again like spiders which ply back and forth ceaselessly, long railroad trains constantly fill the holds of the local docks, once the largest wooden docks in the world, with ore from the Menominee and Marquette ranges. The growth of Escanaba has gone hand in hand with the discovery and exploitation of the rich iron ore deposits in the Upper Peninsula.

Ore Found In 1844

While the discovery of iron ore in the Lake Superior district at a point west of Negaunee in June, 1845 is generally attributed to Mardji Gezick, an Indian belonging to a tribe which made its home in the district, the actual discovery of the presence of ore in the district was first noted several years previous to that time by a surveyor named William Burt. At that time, Burt was surveying township lines in Upper Peninsula for the United States land office.

It is said that Burt and his party, of assisting axmen and chainmen were working north on the twenty-seventh range line west of the principal Michigan meridian when the behavior of the magnetic needle of the surveying transit led Burt to suspect the proximity of iron ore as the disturbing influence. It is generally understood that the surveyor and members of the party actually found a small outcrop of ore. This occurred in September, 1844. Subsequently, members of the surveying party mentioned the discovery to several persons, including the Indian, Mardji Gezick. In June of the year 1845, the Indian led S. T. Carr and E. S. Rockwell to the vicinity of Jackson mountain where they found the ore outcrop beneath the roots of a pine stump.

By 1855, ore dug with picks and shovels was hauled over a plank road to the water's edge to be carried to lower lake ports in small sailing ships built of wood. It was in that same year that companies mined and transported through the newly opened ship canal around the rapids at Sault Ste. Marie.

Crude Equipment

For a long time, the unloading was by means of a shovel-filled barrel hoisted by rope over a pulley, drawn by a mule. Furnaces were of small capacity and uncertain in action. The hauling of Lake Superior ore to markets in Ohio and Pennsylvania was costly. Eastern ore had the advantage of shorter hauls.

In the year 1878, the Marquette range was practically the sole source of ore shipped from the Lake Superior region. The mines in the Marquette range in that year shipped 1,039,363 tons of ore.

Engineering ingenuity has from early days supplied constantly improved methods for extracting, treating, and transporting this ore as the tonnage out-put increased. The underground mines of the old ranges offered their own difficulties.

Improvements which have been made in every process and detail of the iron ore industry might be typified by one or two. The pick and shovel of the early days in underground mining has given place to the use of high explosives, mechanical scrapers and hoists. The small machine used in the first open pit mining has yielded to steam or electric shovels of 400 tons weight, each equipped with a six or eight yard dipper, which will dig a cut 128 feet wide at the level of the shovel track and lift the material 60 feet above the track.

Wheelbarrows, by which it took weeks to load on the small vessels of the pioneer days, have yielded place to concrete and steel ore docks with facilities which have loaded 200 tons per minute, record time, and which commonly load 12,000 to 13,000 tons of ore in four hours.

The small sailing ships which carried not more than 1,000 tons of cargo have disappeared from the lakes as completely as the ships of Commodore Perry. The steel freighter of today carries more than 13,000 tons in a single cargo.

Blesch Estate To Be Taxed $483,000

Menominee, Mich. —The estate of the late Gustavus A. Blesch, retired Menominee banker and capitalist who died on March 14 will pay nearly a half-million dollars in inheritance taxes, according to an appraisal of the estate filed with Probate Judge Katherine Stiles Loughton last week. The appraisers were Harry E. Scott and George W. Haggerson.

The appraisal showed that Mr. Blesch left an estate of $1,250,093.66, of which $875,144.35 was in U. S. bonds. According to inheritance tax computations the estate will pay the federal government approximately $483,000 and a state of Michigan tax of $60,000.

Besides the government bonds the Blesch estate includes $271,984 in bank stocks including 648 shares of stock of the First National Bank of Chicago, currently worth $214 a share; 854 shares in the First National Bank of Menominee listed at $10 a share and 300 shares in the Stephenson National Bank of Marquette, also at $10 a share. Other bank stock includes two shares in the Bank of Stephenson; 20 shares in the Kellogg National of Green Bay; 105 shares in the First National of Norway and 35 shares in the Uptown National Bank of Chicago.

Mr. Blesch also left other bonds and stocks, including stock in several Menominee corporations, which were appraised at $98,144.35 and cash, etc., worth $4,540.36.

His widow, Mrs. Bertha Blesch, receives the bulk of the estate, after taxes, under terms of the will. She is bequeathed $200,000 plus the residue after specific bequests. These bequests are: $50,000 to the Shrine's Crippled Children's hospital; $50,000 to the Michigan Masonic Home at Alma, Mich.; $10,000 to his sister, Mrs. Clara Blesch Monroe of Green Bay and $5,000 to A. J. Klumb of Menominee for his assistance to Mrs. Blesch in handling affairs of the estate.

Coal-Burning Steam Engines Menace Health

Chicago, (AP)—The Journal of the American Medical Association said that coal-burning steam locomotives constituted "one of the most serious single health menaces" in city air pollution, asserting they helped create an atmosphere conducive to pneumonia, tuberculosis and cancer.

"Death rates from pneumonia, tuberculosis, and respiratory tract cancer provide a clear index of the damage air pollution inflicts on the city's population," the Journal said. "All three of these diseases show a much higher death and incidence rate in badly polluted areas."

The Journal said, in replying to a physician's query, that the steam locomotive health menace was particularly serious "for heavily industrialized cities located in regions prone to natural large scale fogs, or to nocturnal fogs from a hill and valley topography such as one sees at Cincinnati and Pittsburgh."

Coal-burning steam locomotives the article said, contribute:

"1—Carbon particles which would be harmless if pure but which have condensed on them varying loads of tars, some of which have been found definitely cancerogenic in animals; (2) Flyash, which is probably more damaging than carbon soot to the human respiratory tract, especially in setting up chronic irritative states; (3) Noxious gases, especially the oxides of sulphur, which form corrosive acids when dissolved in water, and (4) exhaust steam, which itself is not harmful but which is liberated into cold winter air in far greater amounts than the air can hold as invisible water vapor and hence must remain as a steam cloud."

The Journal said diesel engines "provide the best answer to this phase of the problem."

Army Foils A Sixth
Of Fraulein Troths

Frankfurt, (AP)—United States Army chaplains have disapproved 16 per cent of the applications for German-American marriages submitted to them in the Frankfurt area.

A spokesman for the chaplains' office explained that the disapprovals were based on the failure of the applicants to meet strict Army requirements—and not on the chaplains' "personal views."

Every fraulein seeking to marry an American must be interviewed by an Army chaplain who explores her moral background. Although the chaplain's recommendation on a marriage application is not final, records here show only one instance of a chaplain's advice being disregarded.

City Given Fire
Scare When Tar
Barrels Ignite

Four tar barrels ablaze at the rear of the Wehner block on Walnut street, gave residents of the vicinity a fire scare Wednesday noon.

Huge clouds of black smoke rolled from the blazing tar and from the street, for a while, it appeared like a three-alarm fire, but the fire department made short work of it.

The fire started when one of the workmen engaged in tarring the roof of the Wehner building attempted to draw off some of the tar from the barrel being heated at the time. Some of the tar spurted on the fire and started to burn. The size of the fire increased as the contents of the barrel spurted on the ground and soon other barrels were afire.

Two cars were removed from the vicinity of the fire. The damage was limited to the tar.

League-Leading Tiges Spit With Athletics

Detroit, June 11 (AP)—The explosive Philadelphia Athletics threw a 20-year-old rookie surprise at the league leading Detroit Tigers today to gain an even break in a doubleheader when first starter Carl Scheib pitched a seven-hit 4 to 0 victory over the Bengals in the nightcap after Detroit had taken the first game 7 to 1.

The Tigers failed all afternoon in the clutches and left 23 men stranded on the bases, 12 of them in the second game when they advanced five men as far as third and five others to second without scoring.

Four of the seven Detroit hits in the nightcap were extra-base hits, but Scheib, the youthful right-hander, kept the blows well scattered and even the seven walks he issued didn't hurt him.

The A's won it with a four-run explosion off Hal White in the sixth when two costly errors were sandwiched in between Eddie Joost's single, Sam Chapman's double and Mike Guerra's single.

Three of the four Philadelphia runs were unearned as White and Johnny Gorsica pitched a six-hitter between them.

Big Al Benton scattered seven hits to take his fourth victory of the season in the opener as Benton himself, Pat Mullin and George Kell each rattled out three of the Tigers' 13 blows off Rookie Bill McCahan, the loser, and reliever Joe Coleman.

Ferris Fain, flashy rookie first baseman of the A's, was put out of action with a bruised thumb when he tried to flag down Mullin's line drive hit in the first game and Kell retired from the second game when Joost's hard smash bruised his shoulder.

The split, Detroit's fifth in six twin bills this year, put the Tigers a full game ahead of the second-place New York Yankees, who lost to Chicago.

The Sports Parade

BY JIM WARD

George LaBrasseur, who starred in baseball, basketball, track and golf while attending Nahma high school and on baseball and basketball teams while in the service of Uncle Sam, is back from the wars now and embarking on an athletic career at Western Michigan College of Education at Kalamazoo that promises big things.

The big 22-year-old freshman, who is enrolled in physical education, has been around plenty but he put on a football suit for the first time when he turned out for grid practice at the Bronco camp last fall. Now, he's in line for a first string backfield berth next fall.

Our informant, Dick Huston, Kalamazoo sports scribe, has this story to tell of Nahma's George: "The first day of practice he had to watch the guy in front of him dress so he would know how to put the paraphernalia on. Even at that, he put the shoulder pads on backwards. But no experience does not hamper George. He was a regular for the junior varsity last season at fullback, competing against fellows who had played good ball in Detroit and Chicago high schools. This season, he earned his varsity track letter as a shotputter."

At Nahma, LaBrasseur boosted his high school team to the U. P. basketball finals and set a scoring record of 252 points in 14 games during his senior year. He also holds several Nahma high school track records and set a golf course record of 71.

He also sparked in service, indicating he's got plenty on the ball, so you can expect to hear more about him. With the Camp Wolters, Tex., nine before going overseas, he batted well over .300, and with a service team in the Pineapple league at Pearl Harbor, he hit .345.

Perhaps you recall hearing during your service days about such blokes as Clint Hartung, Johnny Mize, Barney McCoskey, Joe DiMaggio and a few other baseball greats playing on the island of Oahu. Well, George was right up among 'em.

Back in the states, he played for McClelland Field near San Francisco and hit .350. In fact, in four games against Pacific Coast league pitching—San Francisco, Oakland, Portland and Sacramento, to be exact, he collected 11 hits in 23 times at bat for a neat .478 average.

George's amazing story of athletic success does not end there. He also played basketball with McClelland, a team rated the best on the west coast in the Converse-Dunkle rating. This five beat many top-notch West Coast collegiate and service teams. Once, he beat the Harlem Globetrotters, 60-58, after those famed colored cagers had rung up 58 triumphs in a row.

This gives you a fair idea of what was developing back in the little town of Nahma before the war. A gentle reminder to keep tuned to WMCE at Kalamazoo in 1947 and 1948, when you will hear the name of LaBrasseur mentioned more than once.

OFF THE CUFF: Latest entries in the Hiawathaland Festival Open Tennis tournament here July 3-6, first major Upper Peninsula net meet to be held in the postwar period. Is Carl J. Olson, 706 Dakota avenue, Gladstone, who sent in his entry from Evanston, Ill., where he is attending Northwestern university.

Enos Slaughter, Cardinals, tops the batters in the major leagues with .358, including last night's games. Tied for second are Harry Walker, Phillies, and Lou Boudreau, Indian veteran, with .354 each. Johnny Mize, Giant, has batted in 45 runs and rammed out 16 homers to lead those departments. Whenever you golfers get disgusted with your games, think of Ellsworth Vines, former world tennis champion. . . . He keeps up with the big-time pros right along. . . . In fact, he pocketed $11,998 in prize money last year. . . . But in 1933, he scored 120-plus regularly over 18 holes. . . . In 1937 he was in the 90s. . . . And that's when he took up the game seriously.

THE ANCIENT GREEKS AND ROMANS used cork for floats and life preservers.

Under pressure from the wool growers the use of cotton was banned in England in 1700.

C. F. WITTNER, AUTRAIN, DIES

Final Rites For Well Known Resort Man Set For Today

Munising—Funeral services for Carl F. Wittner, 77, well-known AuTrain lake resort operator, who died at 11 Monday night at his home at AuTrain lake after a short illness, were set tentatively to be held in Marquette Thursday.

He was born Feb. 11, 1870, in Germany and came to Marquette in 1906 from Green Garden, where he had lived on a farm. In 1907, in partnership with the late John D. Mangum, he established the Union Clothing Co. in Marquette, which was operated there until the building was destroyed by fire.

In 1932 Mr. Wittner sold the clothing store, which had been re-established on South Front street, Marquette, and moved to AuTrain lake, where he established Wittner's resort.

He started the resort on a small scale and developed it rapidly with a record of successful operation until it became the largest on the lake. Mr. Wittner had a prominent part in the development of the tourist and resort business in Alger county and served two terms on the Alger county road commission. He was a member of the Trinity Lutheran parish and the Munising Lions club.

He leaves his wife, Anna; a son, Carl M. Marquette; a daughter, Mrs. Ann Hicks, Marquette; a brother, Ernest, and a sister, Mrs. Fred Dorow, both of Marquette. There are four grandchildren.

WILLIAM CAMPBELL RITES
Munising—Funeral services for William J. Campbell, of Melstrand, who died Monday after an extended illness, will be held at 2 this afternoon in Quailieu's funeral chapel. The Rev. Frederick T. Steen, of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate. Escorts will be the following members of the Moose lodge: Howard Gafis, Francis Lincoln, Roy Warren, Russell Spearman, Theodore Compton and John Tervo.

Wife Of CIO Chief Paus $50 Fine For Reckless Driving
Detroit, June 11. (AP)—Payment of a $50 fine by Mrs. R. J. Thomas, wife of the CIO United Auto Workers vice president, today ended a three-year court battle over an auto accident in which she was involved April 13, 1944.

A justice court jury originally convicted Mrs. Thomas of drunken driving in connection with a collision between her auto and a truck in Grosse Pointe.

An appeal to Circuit Court Judge Ira W. Jayne brought about a reduction in the charge to one of reckless driving. Mrs. Thomas was assessed the $50 fine today by Judge Jayne.

PUBLIC HOUSING FUNDS SLASHED

Program Called Failure; Expediter Ordered To Close Up Shop

Washington, June 11 (AP)—The House cut $5,000,000 out of the $7,200,000 budget for the Federal Public Housing Authority today, and with another swing of the axe ordered Expediter Frank Creedon to start closing up his agency July 1.

It acted after investigators for the appropriations committee reported that the FPHA has "failed miserably" and that Creedon's efforts to spur building for veterans likewise have been fruitless.

The double blow at the administration's housing program came with passage of a $36,097,580 bill to finance government corporations during the 12 months beginning July 1.

This bill, which now goes to the Senate, also directs the Tennessee Valley Authority to repay out of operating revenues during the next 40 years $348,239,240 it has received in appropriations for power facilities.

President Truman had recommended that the office of the housing expediter be continued until December 31. The committee allowed the expediter one full year to close up shop, with the understanding there will be no new business transacted after the end of this month.

As for the FPHA, the committee said that more than 31 per cent of its tenants were found to be "totally ineligible," because of too-high income for the low-income housing, and for other reasons.

The House upheld the committee's recommendations despite a contention by Dillon S. Myer, FPFA commissioner, that they set up "conditions which may necessitate violations of contracts made in good faith between the federal government and local governments."

Underground Forced To Halt Smuggling Jews Into Palestine
Jerusalem, June 11. (AP)—A spokesman for Hagana, Jewish underground group which has been sponsoring the smuggling of Jews from Europe into Palestine, said today it was halting its immigration activities temporarily "because of new difficulties at ports of embarkation."

The spokesman told the Associated Press that no ships were enroute to the Holy Land with unauthorized immigrants and that "none are due in the immediate future."

Measures taken at European ports to thwart the exodus of Jews to Palestine, he said, have made it "virtually impossible to provision ships for long sea voyages."

"There are, however, many ships and thousands of Jews awaiting a chance for the journey, and they will sail as soon as we surmount these new obstacles," he declared.

Two-Year Freezing Of Social Security Tax Rate Approved
Washington, June 11 (AP)—The House ways and means committee today unanimously approved a two-year freeze of the social security tax at one per cent each on wages and payrolls. That is the present rate.

Without this action the tax would jump automatically next year to 2.5 per cent against employer and employee.

The committee approved a formula for future increases, providing that the levy will go to 1.5 per cent on January 1, 1950, and continuing at that rate through 1956, when it would become 2 per cent against employer and employee.

Beef 'Ripened' By Air-Conditioning
Washington—Newest air-conditioned industrial process is one applied to the conventional "ripening" of beef by letting the sides hang in a room of moderate temperature for a few days after killing. It is the invention of Paul B. Christensen of Fair Lawn, N. J., to whom U. S. patent 2,419,119 has just been granted. Rights in the patent are assigned to the Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Immediately after slaughtering and dressing, beef is chilled, then placed in the warm humid tenderizing room. This causes water condensation on the meat, often producing discolored streaks and spots and encouraging growth of fungi and bacteria.

In the new process, the temperatures of the room is raised sharply for a short period after the fresh meat has been introduced, and at the same time the air is circulated vigorously. This evaporates any water that has condensed on the meat. The temperature is then gradually reduced to the proper tenderizing level.

Pipe With Spring Is Hot And Cold At The Same Time

(AP) Newsfeatures
Pittsburgh—The Westinghouse research laboratories have a hollow, metal pipe, with nothing inside except a coiled spring.

When compressed air is blown into this pipe hot air comes out of one end and cold air out of the other.

No heating or cooling devices are used and there is no magic trick. The coiled spring sets the air whirling inside the pipe.

This air also is expanding. Expanding air always gets cooler. Due to the whirling motion the cool air collects in the center of the tube and the air spinning around outer edges of the whirl gets warmer, apparently due to friction against the pipe.

Suction is applied to draw the cold middle air out of one end of the tube while warm air goes out the other end. The device is credited to R. Hulsh, a German scientist. He made a small tube a foot-and-a-half long but only three-tenths of an inch in diameter. He reported that the air out of one end was 154 Fahrenheit and out of the other 10 above zero.

Wood Alcohol Is Known To Chemists As Methanol. To form the methylamines, ammonia and methanol vapors are passed over a catalyst. This is one of many types of materials that promote chemical action without being affected chemically itself.

One difficulty in making methylamines in the process described, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers was told here today by R. S. Egly and E. F. Smith, of Commercial Solvents Corporation, is that three different methylamines are formed, one of which has little value as yet. This is known chemically as trimethylamine. They explained how it can be produced in the mixture in lesser amounts. In the past, it has been separated and burned as a waste product.

The treatment suggested has to do with the length of time the vapors are allowed to remain in contact with the catalyst, and a proper choice of temperature and pressure for the reaction. The addition of water suppressed trimethylamine production, and had very little effect on reactions to the other amines.

Grieving Mother, 18, Wants To Die; Says She Strangled Baby

Racine, Wis., June 11 (AP)—A grieving 18-year-old mother who summoned Burlington officers yesterday with a telephoned cry that "I've killed my baby and I want to die too," was in custody today, District Attorney Edward A. Krenzke said, while the death of her three-weeks-old child was investigated.

"We both wanted the baby," said a statement given officers by the girl, whom the district attorney identified as Mrs. Frances Stowell, whose husband, 20, is a milk plant employee. "But after it came, I thought it might have been better if we had waited until I was a couple of years older."

"I didn't know anything about taking care of a baby. But I was learning."

Krenzke said that no charge had been filed against Mrs. Stowell and he was awaiting a coroner's report on cause of little Linda Marlene's death. He said that Burlington police chief had been summoned by Mrs. Stowell, and that an officer dispatched to the Stowell home in a veterans' development found the baby dead on a bed.

In her statement, given to the district attorney and other officials last night, the young mother said:

"The baby kept crying. I picked her up from the bassinette and carried her over to my bed. I put one hand over her mouth and one on her throat. The next thing I remember the baby stopped moving. I looked at her and knew she was dead. I went to the telephone and called the police. I killed the baby and I want to be sent to the electric chair. I want to die too."

Railway Fireman Calls Up Molotov For $22.50 Chat

Oelwein, Ia., June 11 (AP)—M. E. (Smoky) Schroeder, fireman on the Chicago Great Western Railway, has his own system for finding out about the Russians.

Schroeder told today how he picked up a telephone and put through a long distance call to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov at the Kremlin in Moscow.

"Molotov sounded surprised, asked me if I was in politics, and wondered if I wanted to talk about international affairs," Schroeder related.

"I told him, 'No, I'm just an ordinary fellow who wants to be sociable.'"

Schroeder, a 36-year-old bachelor, said he and Molotov talked about railroading and the Midwest until some girls in the diplomat's office "buted in" and wanted to know about Hollywood.

The call was made at 2 a. m. Sunday and cost Schroeder $22.50 plus tax. He said it was worth it because it fulfilled his life-long ambition to talk to "an international politician or diplomat."

cracy and political freedom to the peoples of liberated and ex-enemy satellite countries, had been violated with injury to democracy in both instances.

The two actions represented the first official countermove by the state department to check, if possible, what officials regard as Soviet-sponsored consolidations of Communist power in eastern Europe. Russia, it is said, wants to move now before the satellite peace treaties become effective and she thereby ceases to have direct control as the chief one of the occupation authorities in that region.

War Buddies Form Bogus Check Ring, Get Prison Terms
Chicago, June 11. (AP)—Three Army buddies who formed a worthless check passing ring after their discharge were sentenced to a federal penitentiary today after they pleaded guilty in federal court to conspiring to pass spurious checks in interstate commerce.

They were Julius Sturm, 27, of Sulphur Spring, Ark., sentenced to five years; John B. Wilson, 25, of Flint, Mich., one year and a day, and John D. Steiner, 28, Chicago, 15 months.

Prosecutor Jack A. Welfeld said the men passed $9,000 in checks in one month after Sturm acquired 150 blank checks from the Union National Bank of Little Rock, Ark.

Contrary to popular impression, platinum and associated metals are widely distributed, although they are found in commercial quantities in only a few localities.
